Belonging

Natalie Maxfield radiates the spirit shared by everyone at the Lufkin pep rally.

. . . This awareness may be strengthened through activities. Many students are united as one by common goals, interests, and friendships. Some of these goals may be reached by the united work of many—washing cars and selling candy. This may also lead to many new friendships and interests. A club is not for just a limited few. No one need be left alone, as an onlooker to life, but he may feel a part of something—a part of each other.

Karen Davis and Anthony Dotson seem to be having a good time at the soc hop after the Lee game.

Winning or losing, it was one way to get together after a game. New dances and music were tried out and most of the time the Soc Hops were a real success. The Student Senate, Brigadettes, and Cheerleaders all shared in the responsibility of sponsoring the Soc Hops and helped to make them more enjoyable and fun. The music ranged from soul and rock and country, and the dances were innumerable and without name. The most outstanding thing that was gained from the Soc Hops was the fact that many friends were made there.

"Good Memories Will Last Forever"

To uphold high ideals and create a close friendship among the girls was one of the purposes of the Blue Brigade. Officers and Brigadettes attended summer camp at Sam Houston State University. There they learned new routines and competed for ribbons. Brigadettes entertained fans during halftime at football and basketball games. Sophomore and Junior Squads did routines in the stands while the band played. Other activities included marching in the Rose and Christmas Parades and collecting money for the Tyler Lions Club and for Disabled Veterans. Blue Brigade also contributed their talent in the Annual Christmas Party. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Peggy Marcom.

"A Great Organization"

Cindy White

Participating as a Lion Guard required time, patience, and pride. The Lion Guards were a really big help to various organizations throughout the year, among some of the duties they performed were carrying pompoms, props, and purses for the Brigadettes, taking care of the school mascot, helping the Cheerleaders hang signs in the gym, and other such jobs that would be thought of as trivia by others. The Lion Guards were sponsored by Mrs. Linda Busby.

Spirit along with work were just some of the ways to boost the Lion to a victorious win. The cheerleader started their year off by attending summer practice and then went to summer camp in Commerce at East Texas State University. They also attended TJC Cheerleader Clinic where they won the Outstanding Trophy. Skits, competition, yells, and other pep rally activities were just a few ways of showing great spirit. The cheerleaders were sponsored by Mrs. Linda Busby.

I Love The Bands

Renee Wilson

Blood, sweat, and tears, these were the things that went into making the Tyler Rose Parade a great success. Band members, Brigadettes, Cheerleaders, and Sophomore Blue Brigade participated in the Rose Parade and represented John Tyler with outstanding conduct and courtesy to others. Those who were involved said afterwards, that marching almost seven blocks was quite a trek. Besides bands, drill teams, and pep squads there were numerous floats and people who were recognized for special achievements and positions.

"I Can Feel The Spirit"

Carol Allen

Excitement, spirit, and noise! Those were the things that made the Pep Rallies something to look forward to. Cheerleaders and Brigadette officers put on skits, making the pep rallies funny and entertaining as well as building everyone's spirit to the fullest. Pep rallies not only boosted school spirit but gave students and teachers a feeling of pride and joy. Spirit and togetherness made John Tyler a school where students and teachers could learn that spirit is the main thing that keeps a school going.

TYV Plans for Bicentennial

"Making youth part of the solution, not the problem" was the goal of the Tyler Youth Volunteers, formerly the Tyler Youth Council. They worked on a number of community projects, including a "Foster Grandparents Program." TYV sponsored a V.D. Hotline to help the growing problems of teenagers and stated that they had plans for projects that would be connected with the bicentennial celebration of our nation. The main concern of TYV was to make Tyler and John Tyler High School a more enjoyable place to live, work and learn. Miss Cox was the sponsor for this organization.

"Alcalde Is Great"

Martha Messer

With laughter, frustration and tons of deep thought, the '74-'75 Alcalde staff has spent many hours publishing a yearbook the students could be proud of. Although putting out a yearbook is not all blood, sweat, and tears, there were a few problems to say the least. Staying late after school, making big pictures fit little spaces, writing interesting copy, naming unknown students, and most important, meeting deadlines. The staff attended the Texas High School Press Association convention with Mr. C. Devers, the advisor, in Denton during December. They also had a Christmas Party and the annual banquet at the Red Barn Steak House after their last deadline. But through it all, there were a couple who knew the true meaning of saying, "Funny Face, We Love You!"

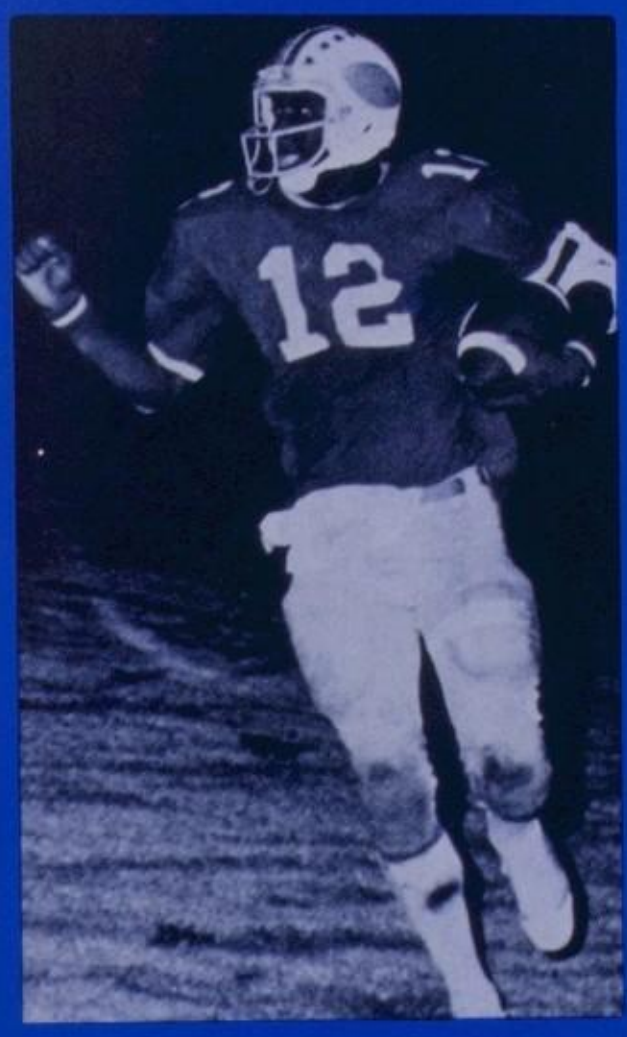
Determination, Devotion, And Pride



Each and every one of us has a goal, an idea, that we all try to live up to. To accomplish this goal, one must have determination, devotion, and pride. Our achievements play an important part in preparing ourselves for the future. Sometimes we fall short of our goal, yet we must not accept defeat, but strive on to overcome it. We must combine our mental and physical strength, endure and march forward. During our lifetime we have many achievements and commitments, but one should be kept true to ourselves—the promise to be everything we can.

The toss of a coin decided the representative of District 14AAAA, with Longview winning the toss, therefore representing district.

Twenty-six consecutive wins for John Tyler came to an end when the Lions were defeated by the Longview Lobos. With both teams being unbeaten, this game was said to be the most important of the season. Behind a consistent rushing game, the Lobo's handed the Lions their first setback of the season 29-7.

Fullback Ronnie Lee bulled over from the one yard line and Gary Johnson kicked the PAT enabling the Lions to shut out the Lufkin Panthers. A capacity crowd turned out at Panther Stadium to watch the exciting defensive struggle. The Lions started their 58-yard touchdown march from their 42-yard line with 7:07 left in the game.

Twelve plays later, Lee scored. Defensive ends Steve Campbell and Andrew Melontree put the game away for John Tyler when they nailed the Panther quarterback for a 9-yard loss as the clock ran out, the Lions winning 7-0.

Rose Stadiums soft turf caused problems with the footing as the John Tyler Lions met the Nacogdoches Dragons. The wetness resulted in several fumbles. J. T. fumbled seven times, losing one, while Nacogdoches miscued six times, losing three. John Tyler scores were made by Ronnie Lee and Kevin Dennis. The Lions burned the Dragons 19-6.

The managers are furnishing water for tired, thirsty players and doing any bandaging that needs to be done. Yvette Redwine scored the first touchdown of the game for the juniors in the first quarter. They held the lead until the second quarter when Angela Johnson scored a touchdown for the seniors. Both teams were unable to break the 6-6 tie. Phyllis Curbow, a junior, broke her arm during practice. She said, "All the fun was worth my broken arm, but I missed not getting to play in the game." Junior coach Joe Dick Smith stated, "I thought that we won over all, in yardage gained and in first downs. Everyone had fun and that's the name of the game, but my coaching career has gone into retirement."

'S-I-N-K, Sink it Lions, Sink it!' The chant swelled throughout the gym as fans urged the Lion Cagers to score again and again. And the players responded by out scoring their opponents in 6 out of 8 outings during the pre-season, and winning two out of three tournaments, losing at Jacksonville, winning at Corsicana and making record books at TJC by winning the tournament for the second year in a row. Five out of the ten players were returning lettermen.

Keeping the trend, the Lions won 10 out of 12 games during the district season. The first half ended in a three way tie between Longview, Marshall, and John Tyler. The Lions lost the first half district crown to Marshall by a coin toss.

By the end of the first half of district play, half of the Lion team was leading the district in scoring. They were returning lettermen Harold Taylor, Duane Rettig, Terence McDaniel, Ronnie Lee, and newcomer Dennis Gordon. Even better luck came in the second round of district play as the Lions won the second half district crown with a 5-1 record.

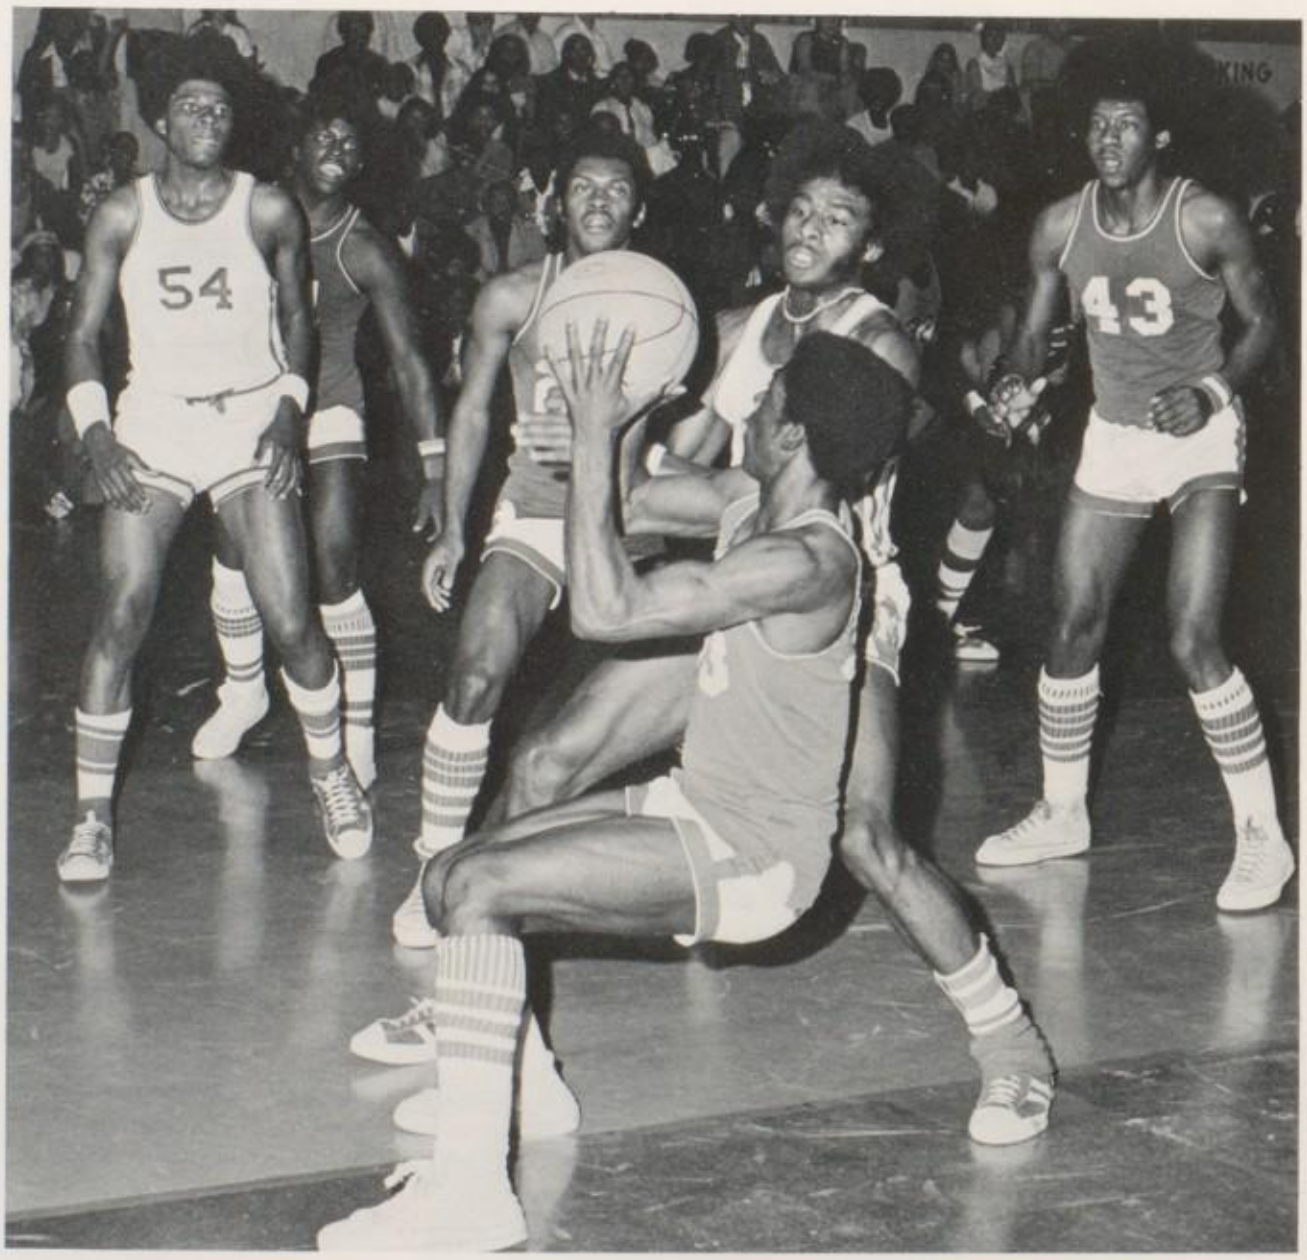
One Of The Eight Best. . .

"District Champs!" This hope was expressed by many J.T. fans last year as the Lions entered the District playoff game against Marshall. They went home still hoping. This year the Lions returned to haunt the Mavericks with a 58-52 decision over them and claimed the 1975 District 14AAAA Champion title. Ronnie Lee led the Lions in scoring with 16 points and Harold Taylor brought down 20 rebounds. A last-minute rally by the Mavericks proved not enough to overcome a stiff Lion defense and the winning run-and-gun offense. The victory was the third over the Mavericks this season.

Forester Gym in Dallas, Texas, was the site of the John Tyler Lion victory over the Plano Wildcats. The Lions played the Wildcats for the Bi-District Champion title. The first quarter was filled with excitement as the Lions fell behind by as much as ten points. The second quarter was all Lion as they outscored the Wildcats 24-15. Halftime showed the two teams tied 35 all. The Lions hung tough in the third quarter and took the lead after the opening tip of the second half. In the fourth quarter, the Lions bombarded the Wildcats and took a 12 point lead which they held to win 74-62.



Daniel Ward (23) sets up his shot in the District playoff game against Marshall as teammates Ronnie Lee (51), Terence McDaniel (25), and Harold Taylor (43) look on. The Lions were victorious 58-52.

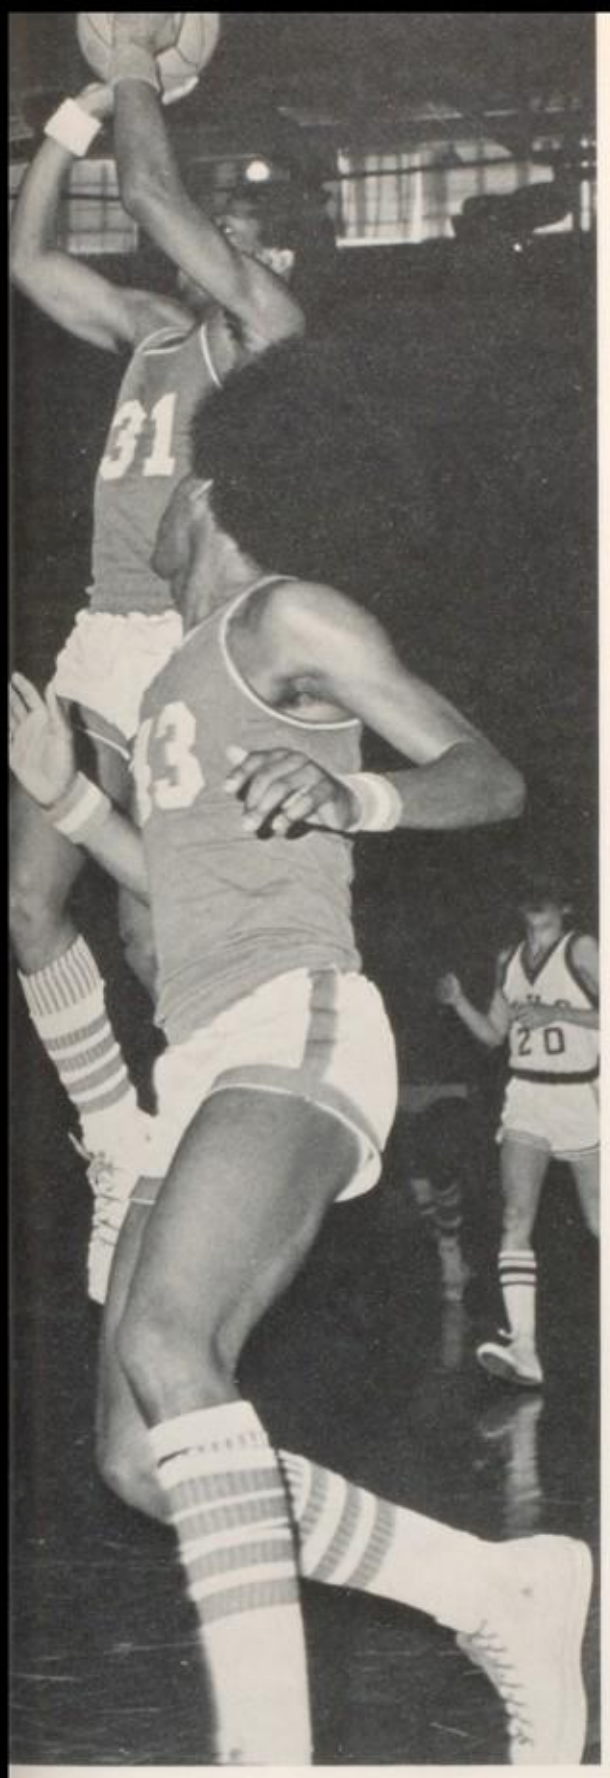
. . .Teams In The State

Terence McDaniel scored 15 points and collected six steals to lead the Lions to a regional playoff victory against the Spring Branch Bears. Controlling the opening tip-off from the beginning of the game, the Lions went to work. Using the run-and-gun offense effectively, the Lions outscored the Bears in both halves and went on to defeat them 62-54.

Having a 29-6 record, the Lions ended their season in the regional finals with a loss to the Ft. Worth Paschal Panthers. The Lions fell behind by nine points in the first quarter. At the end of the third quarter, the score was tied 51-51. Early in the fourth period, the Lions led but could not keep it. The hopes for another J.T. State Championship were dashed when the Panthers won 69-59.



Dennis Gordon (31) tries for two in the Paschal game as Harold Taylor (43) adds moral support. The Lions were defeated 69-59.

Eloys Bowser (10) tries for two more in the Nacogdoches game that the Lions won 101-52.

"Hard work is the key to victory" is a popular saying around John Tyler, and the Junior Varsity Basketball Team worked hard. They reaped the glory of a winning season. Hours topping hours of practice showed favorably for the Lions on the court as they were victorious in 17 of our 20 outings. Tournaments were not as lucky, however, as the only one they entered showed a victory and a defeat that put them out of it. Techniques were learned by players in many ways. Eloys Bowser says "watching the pros on television has taught me to play basketball. I watch their moves and try to learn them." Combining educational views of television and hard-working coaches, the Lion Junior Varsity lived up to our motto, "Proud is our Pride."

Putt-Putt Power

One of the overlooked spring sports at John Tyler was golf. Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Lewis, the golf team practiced daily in preparation for their matches. Because golf facilities were not available on campus, the team spent many hours at Bellwood Golf Course. Throughout the months of March, April, and May, they traveled to surrounding areas to participate in tournaments and matches.

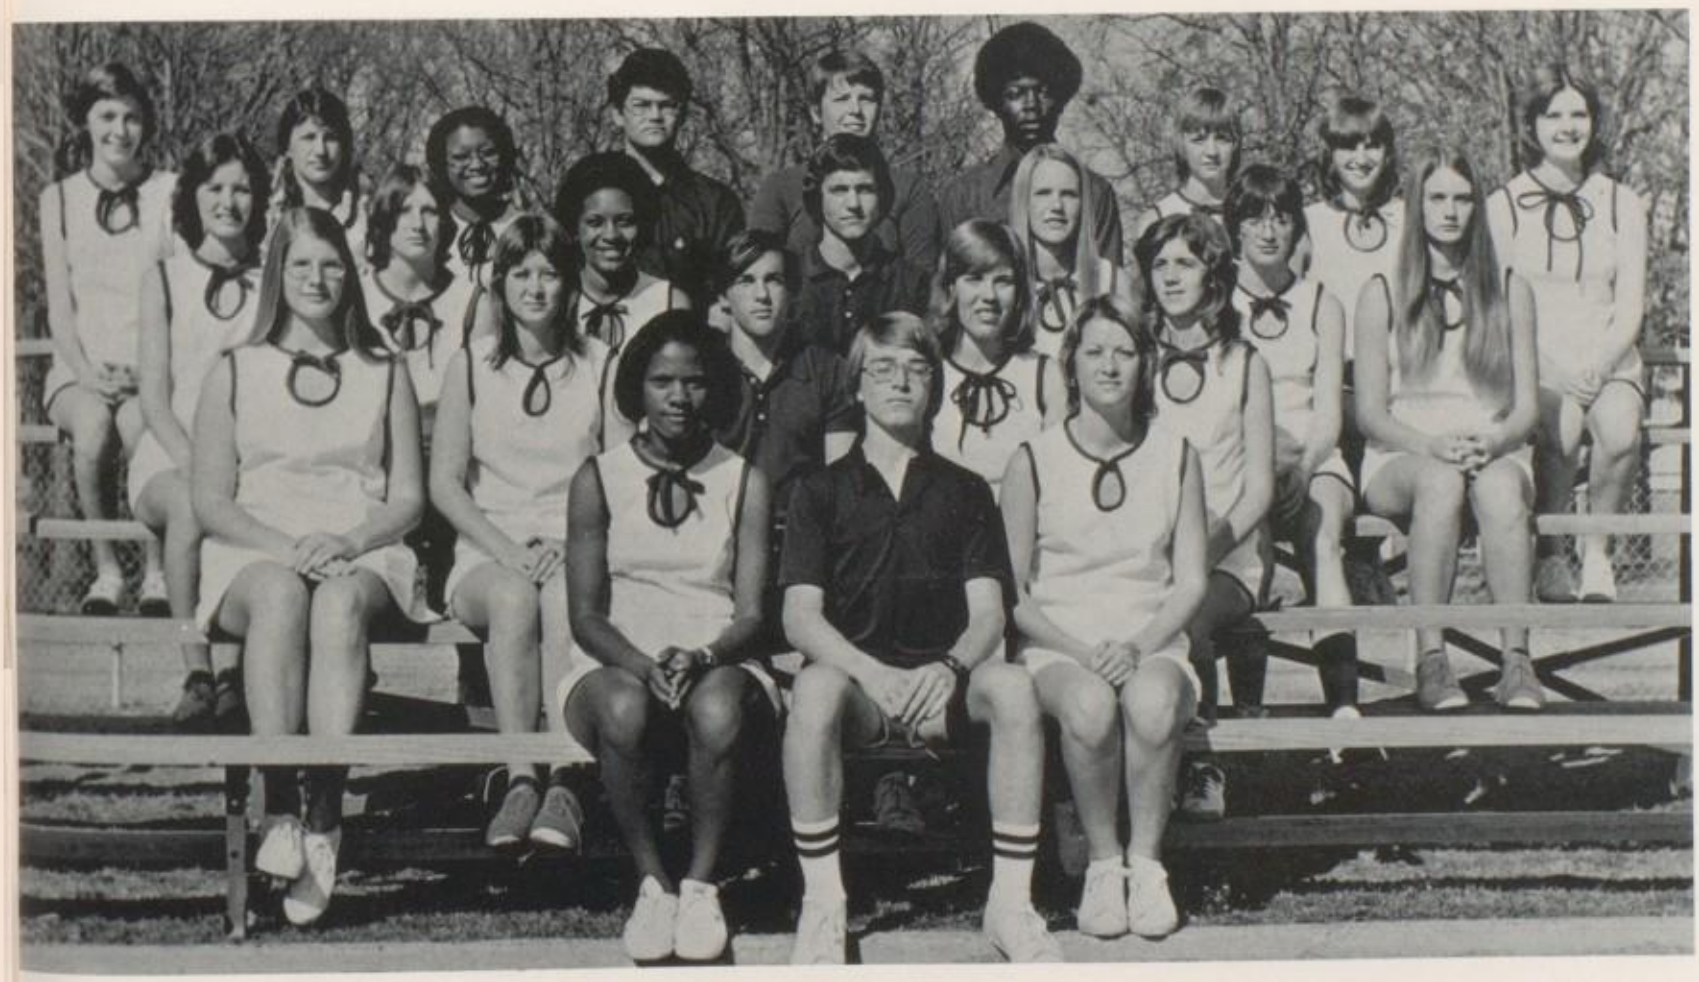
The Goal Of Teammates: Success!

Service, returns, and ball placement were several of many basics stressed on the courts by the tennis team. Varsity members attended tournaments at Jacksonville, Henderson, Palestine, and Robert E. Lee. Mrs. Marilyn Hooker was the coach. Prevalent at all times was the hope of racking up a more successful year.



Members of the Tennis Team are: Front Row: Sally Lee, Chris Loden, Pam Smith; Second Row: Glenda Holcomb, Paula Smith, Mark Perkins, Renata Garrard, Allison Low; Third Row: Diana Howes, Paula White, Iva Starr, Tommy Latta, Debbie McCoy, Dianna Grigsby, Rose Mary Sullivan; Back Row: Lisa Cade, Susan Perkins, Charlotte Moseley, Alden Clanahan, Mrs. J. Girls' Track Is New Addition

Another addition to the athletic department was the formation of a girls track team. Under the supervision of Mrs. Emma Barrett, the group consisted of 30 girls. The girls competed in the 60, 100, 200, 440, and 880 yard dashes, 80 yard low hurdlers, plus the mile relay. Field events included the 8-pound shot-put, women's discus, high jump, long jump, and the triple jump. Carol Williamson said, "It's a lot of hard work, but it's fun." Another comment on the new program was by Teri Griffith, who said, "It is a great experience for girls and I hope it will open more opportunities for girls in athletes."

Athletes Gain Strength

Every year, more and more boys compete in track, each one trying to gain points in his own event—whether it is jumping hurdles, throwing discus and shot-put, or running relays. There to help and give advice were coaches Lawrence LaCroix and Darvin Hooker. With their assistance and the thrill of competition, each athlete became stronger, both mentally and physically.

Members of the Track Team are Front Row: Benny Jordan, Fred Derrick, Kent Bradley, John Pitts, Lloyd Williams, Ruben Jordan, Donnie Collins, Andrew Melontree, Stanley Smith, Danny Jones, Benard Sirles Second Row: Vincent Cain, Otis Collins, Billy Neal, Zach Guthrie, Jerry Johnson, Robert Jones, Anthony Dotson, Robert Beck, Anthony Curtiss, Isiah Johnson. Third Row: Gary Parks, Henry Hill, Jerry Crowder, Claude Jones, Don Terrell, Mark Taylor, Gerald Wilkerson, Claude Moore, Clarence Edwards, Samuel Choice. Back Row: Mr. Darvin Hooker, coach, and Mr. Lawrence LaCroix, coach.

Beginning practice early in February, Coach John McKinley opened his first season as baseball coach, along with a promising team. Workouts in hitting, bunting, and fielding were only a few of the factors involved in forming a winning team. Determination and the desire to win made baseball season a great one for all involved.

Academics

Education is viewed by students and faculty at John Tyler High School as being multifaceted. It is seeing through a glass darkly as well as face to face each day. It is developing confidence to take command of any situation and building individual initiative. Education, through Academics, is putting knowledge to practical use in order to advance toward one's goals and appreciate more fully the advantage of education. Contemporary education has a progressive phase, and John Tyler strives to keep pace with the times through academic courses. By extending knowledge to wisdom and creating the motivation, the quality of human living is improved.

Mrs. Bandy's government class draws names to decide who will travel to the State Capital.

Strive To Improve

Mr. Charles Craddock and Debbie Baxter discuss the upcoming game.

Many problems may arise at John Tyler, but as long as we have two capable men (such as Mr. Clifford Baker and Mr. Charles Craddock) to solve them, things will continue to run smoothly. These two men do everything from making sure the roof is fixed in the new Ag building to breaking up serious arguments between students. Mr. Baker and Mr. Craddock's main jobs, however, were aiding students (which occasionally involves disciplinary actions and suspensions) and getting teachers and students together for conferences. They were also responsible for some new additions to JT such as the new locks on the lockers and the new phone booth by the students' parking lot. These two men work well together for students and for John Tyler.

Mr. Clifford Baker and Mr. Charles Craddock discuss the increasing number of tardies.

New ideas in Auto Mechanics were taught this year at John Tyler. Training aids, film strips, and charts were but a few of the many learning methods available. Trips were taken to Tyler firms such as Kelly Springfield, Wagner Cadillac, King Chevrolet, and others. This course required 1080 hours in two years of study, since it takes more than one year to become a mechanic doing major and minor work. 'Hands On' techniques were utilized to aid students in actual mechanical operations.

Involvement makes the difference between a dull class and a lively one. Student interest in social studies classes increased this year because of the activities in the classes. They ranged from "Jeopardy" and "The Living Textbook" in history to simulations in government. These included the National Presidential Convention and election, plus the State Legislature. Students not only learned about the past, but also about how the United States government is carried on.

Physical development is not to be neglected or minimized. An individual must learn to grow physically, as well as mentally. Physical Education plays a big part in this. Individual and team teaching methods were used and fitness and conditioning were stressed. One of the new activities in PE was indoor bowling. "Using Abilities . . .

Action speaks louder than words. Although diction and voice were developed in drama, they were not the only challenges an actor had to face. Just as it is possible to interpret actions on a television screen with the volume turned down, so was it possible for drama students to convey impressions through pantomimes. However, students also developed the arts of lighting, make-up, and directing. Through acting, students learned more of themselves through the study of different character types. Drama was discovered to be a "mirror of life."

Thinking and reasoning on the spur of the moment—this was what debate students learned to develop. Debators learned not to use this in debate only, but in any situation that deemed it necessary. They learned to argue constructively, look at a problem from both sides, and see the advantages of both. Speech aided people in communications, accepting criticism, and making use of it. Students also developed excellent speaking techniques and habits.

All phases of science are challenging and exciting fields of study. Through labs and experiments, students found that physical, chemical, and biological sciences were not only individual fields of study, but that they also interrelate. Labs ranged from studying microorganisms, dissecting fetal pigs, proving the effects of chemicals on each other, to the study of wavelengths and time.

Cooking, sewing, and meal planning were three of the basic subjects taught in Home Economics. As the course progressed, these were brought into greater detail. In addition to learning to care for the home, interior design was taught. Four-year students were responsible for designing the interior of the Building Trades house. Another aspect of Home Economics was Home and Family Living. In its fourth year to be taught at John Tyler, it is a nationwide subject that has become a current trend with many high school students. However, girls were not the only people taking this course. Last year four boys were in the classes, but the number has increased to 30 this year. In addition to cooking, areas such as personality, dating, marriage, and parenthood were also discussed.

Industrial Arts Build The World

Using and developing skills was the purpose of Industrial Arts courses. Architectural and mechanical drafting, woodworking, welding, and electrical circuitry were different phases taught in drafting, shop, and electronics. In addition to circuitry, electronics students learned to build radios and to use the different electrical parts in various ways in other machines.

Medical Experience Is The Best Teacher

First aid was not the only field of study of the Health Occupations students. Actual job experience was the best teacher. Students who took this course learned to distribute medication, make beds, and prepare meals in hospitals and nursing homes. Others worked as receptionists and dental assistants for doctors in the Tyler area. However, the health of the human body was not the only concern of these people. Some were even employed by veterinarians. In these ways, Health Occupations prepared people for the many phases of the medical profession.

VOE Aids Office Occupations

Developing and using the maximum potential of high school students in support of the office occupations was the aim of the Vocational Office Education course. It prepared students for careers in those areas and related directly to the needs of the public. Three major categories for employment were available: (1) stenographic-secretarial; (2) bookkeeping-clerical; (3) general office clerical groups. Instruction of office machines and other phases of office work were taught by individual instruction.

Environmental Tech Meets National Needs

Most of us are aware of the growing shortage of skilled service repairmen in the nation. Environmental Technology trained students for just that type of field. Courses in refrigeration, air conditioning, and plumbing were taught by actually allowing the students to work on the equipment. The air distribution system of the Building Trades house was installed by this group.

They visited construction sites, and built a house on the old Jacksonville Highway using blueprints submitted by the drafting class. Building Trades is important because of the need for skilled craftsmen. Basics learned by students included: (1) carpentry; (2) plumbing; (3) air conditioning and heating; (4) painting and decorating; (5) bricklaying; and (6) estimating and blueprint reading. These were combined with leadership training.

Metal Trades Serves Tyler Industries

Different phases of technical practice characterized the Metal Trades Program, and many people found this course to be quite an experience. The basics of machine operations, layout and blueprint procedures, and gas welding were introduced to students. Later, more advanced forms of these were mastered. Actual experience on machines was practiced, also. "Mig" welding (which is used by many Tyler industries) was a phase of welding also taught. "Mig" stands for Metallic Inert Gas. As a result of individual and combined efforts, Metal Trades students were prepared for employment.

They ranged from manicuring, to facials, to general hair care, and even to specialized phases of hair styling.

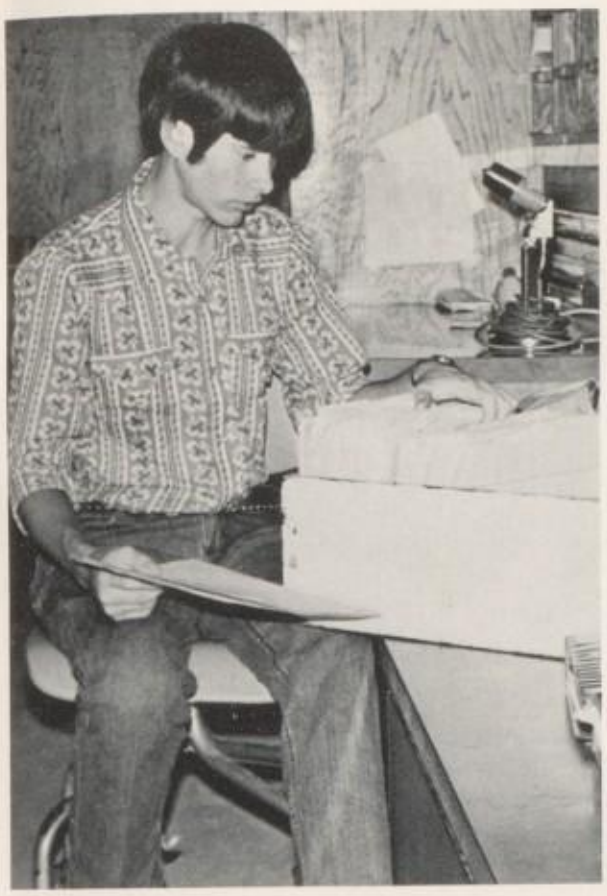
Always Helping Out



Ricky Johnson helps out in the office during third period.

Attempting to keep John Tyler running smoothly through the school year, the office personel worked to solve administrative and student problems. Dealing with absences, calling substitute teachers, selling football tickets, and enrolling students are only a few of their duties. These women also have the job of memeographing and duplicating papers for the teachers, handling the teachers' payroll, and doing all the bookkeeping. A group of students also help with the work in the office while learning office procedures.

Portraits

Combing hair and straightening ties; for just the quick flash of a camera whether it is the first or the last high school picture you will have made. The thrill a sophomore experiences at the thought of his picture going in the Alcalde, a junior enjoying the chance to get out of English and ham it up before a camera, and a senior in his coat and tie hoping his picture will come out good because it will be his last high school picture. Each person is different, yet tied together through their thoughts.

Seniors Cherish Memories Of '75

Experiencing the changes from sophomore to senior, John Tyler's 1975 graduating class looked ahead to changes promised by the future. For many of the 435 seniors, college was the next big step. For others, careers in the business world was next. Seniors will cherish many memories of 1975 such as, the victory over the cross town rival, sponsoring the Annual Powderpuff Football game and Senior Dance. As the end of the year neared, caps and gowns were ordered, and invitations sent. This was a great year to remember for the graduating seniors.

The Senior class officers are Tony Fears, President; Holly Womack, Secretary; and Mark Landrum, Vice-President.

'One More Year To Go'

"Two down and one to go!" The 530 juniors have had many exciting experiences for the year of 1975. The high points for the juniors this year consisted of ordering senior rings, and participating in the Annual Powderpuff Football game. Even though the juniors had a lot of good times they found out that everything was not all fun and games, wishing to expand their education many juniors registered to take the American College Testing Program (ACT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). Another activity the juniors sponsored was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. The year of 1975 will long be remembered by the juniors.

Junior officers for 1974-75 are Kevin White, President; Becky Bell, Secretary; and Benny Mayfield, Vice President.

Sophomores Face New Challenges

Facing new challenges was what the 648 sophomores experienced in 1975. Starting the new year off many sophomores attended Sophomore Orientation August 22, where they begin finding their way around and meeting new friends and faculty. In September the sophomores were busy electing class officers and student senators. Knowing that they had two more great years ahead of them, the 1975 sophomores ended the year with great expectations for the future.

Advertising

Our framework of life must include the community. Certainly, when we think of one student at John Tyler we see him as many. Learning, working, and striving to make this a better school and community. Our patrons, showing their faith in us, back us through their advertising. In a sense, we are the community, the community of the future, and they, too, project something of themselves in the future through our perspective. They are the community, without which there would be no John Tyler.

The Graduation

by Rachel Wilson

As I walk along the dark corridors of these now deserted halls.

I see the memories of my past as they end here tonight.
a handshake, a paper,
a tear.

How do I look back upon the days I spent here.

Here in these rooms, the teachers, the tests,
the plays, the joys and the sorrows.

And now these things I sacredly fold away
in my heart.

And in the years to come, when I am lonely, only then will I bring them out to enlighten the dark halls of my memory.

I look back now, and I see the hate I bore for those many teachers.

But where that hate once thrived, now lives
only respect.

Respect for the courage it must have taken to teach me the things I had to know.

The things this paper represents.

Now my heart aches for the times I long to repeat.

And yet it seems hardly possible for the years to have passed so quickly.

These halls that once belonged to me,
are mine no longer.

They do not hum with the daily confusion once made by

Lost Sophomores, Laughing Juniors, and Busy Seniors.

But now they hold within themselves a sacred solemnity for the tears of those who now must leave.

As I walk along the dark corridors of these now deserted halls,

I see the memories of my past as they end here tonight.

Ending with a handshake, a paper, and
a tear.

Editor's Note

The staff realizes that without the help of many gracious people, the publication of the Alcalde would have been difficult if not impossible. There are many people to whom we would like to express our appreciation for helping the Alcalde this year. We would like to thank Mr. Alvis Hanna, Mr. Clifford Baker, Mr. Charles Craddoc Mrs. Dorothy Atwood and the offic and library staffs for their assistance. For guidance in the photographic field, we wish to than Mr. Rolan Crawford and Karl's Cam and Cards. Our sincere appreciation to Mr. W. A. Christian and Mr. Bill Henderson. We also want to thank the faculty, students, and advertisers for their cooperation with us.
